Dear Valued Customers,

Many of you have expressed concern over not being able to locate Washington mix products in your local grocery stores. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused you, but the reason is because Washington Quality Foods, a division of Wilkins-Rogers, Inc., had to make a difficult business decision to discontinue the manufacturing of the following products:

Washington Spoon Bread
Washington Gingerbread
Washington Pancake & Waffle Mix
Washington Popover
Washington Corn Muffin
Washington Corn Bread
Washington Hot Muffin
Washington Bran Muffin
Washington Raga Muffins[†]

We recognize that over the years many of these products became favorites in your households. Therefore, we have developed simple recipes that will give you the opportunity to recreate in your homes the same great products that you have come to enjoy over the years.

Washington Quality Foods has been milling flour and corn meal for almost 100 years and the key ingredients that made our mixes so special are our Washington Self-Rising Flour and our Indian Head, Cross and Beattie corn meal products.

We greatly appreciate your using our products over the years and apologize for any inconvenience our decision may have caused you. Washington Self-Rising flour and our corn meal products can be used for all of your baking and cooking needs and we hope that you will continue to include them in your favorite recipes.

Sincerely,

Washington Quality Foods
A Division of Wilkins-Rogers, Inc.
